

“The Department of Internal Medicine meets Prof. François Mach (University of Geneva)”

CONFERENCE on CARDIOVASCULAR DISEASES
October 2nd 2015

CONFIRMED INVITED SPEAKER

Prof. François Mach, MD is full Professor and Head of Cardiology Division at the University of Geneva and Geneva University Hospital. He has a large experience in the field of Cardiology particularly, with respect to the development and progression of the atherosclerotic diseases. After obtaining his MD at the University of Geneva, he moved for post-doctoral fellowship in the laboratory of Professor Peter Libby, Brigham and Women’s Hospital, Boston. François Mach is author of more than 350 publications with high Impact Factor and during his career he has already obtained more than 30 research grants.

Sala Conferenze DIMI, piano terra, from 14.00 to 18.30.
viale Benedetto XV, n6, 16132 Genova.

Organizers:

Patrizio Odetti

Franco Dallegri

Aldo Pende

Fabrizio Montecucco

Further information:

Email: Fabrizio.Montecucco@unige.it

Sponsored by:
serving science through innovation